

Make a difference to someone's life by becoming a support worker

Disability Support Workers

Anglicare is seeking casual Disability Support Workers to work with Acquired Injury Community Support clients on the East Coast.

This role will suit people who already have the experience and qualifications to work in the sector.

What does a support worker do?

The day-to day job of a support worker is built around the needs of the person you are supporting. It is full of variety and can include helping them to carry out daily tasks such as:

- personal care (showering, grooming and dressing)
- medication administration
- meal preparation
- manual handling
- transport
- purchases
- record keeping and reporting.

It can also include supporting a person to stay connected with their friends, family and the community, learn new skills, or pursue their personal interests and hobbies.

Job benefits

- Generous above-award pay
- Penalty rates for weekend shifts
- A range of rostered shifts available (morning, afternoon, night)
- On-the-job training provided
- Rewarding work environment

Anglicare requirements

All Anglicare employees must have the following or willing to get:

- Australian Residency status or valid Australian working rights
- Certificate III in Individual Support or equivalent
- Current provisional or full Australian Driver's Licence and an insured, reliable motor vehicle
- Current Tasmanian Working with Vulnerable People registration
- National Police Check (Working with Vulnerable Peoples)
- COVID-19 vaccination

More information

If you would like to apply or seek more information please either:

- Use the QR Code to visit our website
- Email anglicarehr@anglicare-tas.org.au
- Ring Hannah Knowles on 0460 622 591

1800 243 232
anglicare-tas.org.au

 AnglicareTAS
Choice, support and hope